THE WHISKY

Distilled in 2008, the twelfth edition in Tullibardine's Marquess Collection marries together three types of port cask — white port, tawny port and ruby port. The result is a richly layered Highland single malt from the Blackford distillery, bottled at 46% and non-chill filtered.

TASTING NOTES

Nose — Tart raspberries and succulent black fruits, balanced with baked apple and crème caramel from the White Port.

Palate — Spiced oak, cloves and cinnamon from the Tawny Port.

Finish — Spicy and warming.

THE DISTILLERY

Tullibardine Distillery stands in Blackford, Perthshire, at the foot of the Ochil Hills — a Highland site with a brewing heritage dating to 1488. The Marquess Collection is the distillery's premium limited-edition range; The Murray takes its name from William Murray, 2nd Marquess of Tullibardine.
